

Lawson is an artist from Kuujjuaraapik born on March 14, 1976. He is now living in Kuujuaq and working at the Education Services for Kativik Ilisarniliriniq. Lawson is a sculptor and jewelry-maker and uses many different mediums such as marble, soapstone, muskox horn, caribou antler, and ivory. He likes to incorporate many mediums in one sculpture. Many of his pieces represent traditional themes like Inuit stories, legends, myths and events. Some of his art can be found in international museums like the Canadian Museum of Inuit Art in Toronto and the Musée des Confluences in Lyon, France.

Lawson Alec Tuckatuck

"Okpik"
2007

"Drum dancer"
2007

What would be your best piece of advice to students who want to be artists?

"Practice, practice more to get better at it."

Lawson Alec Tuckatuck

"Elegance"
2006