

Lukassie Tookalak

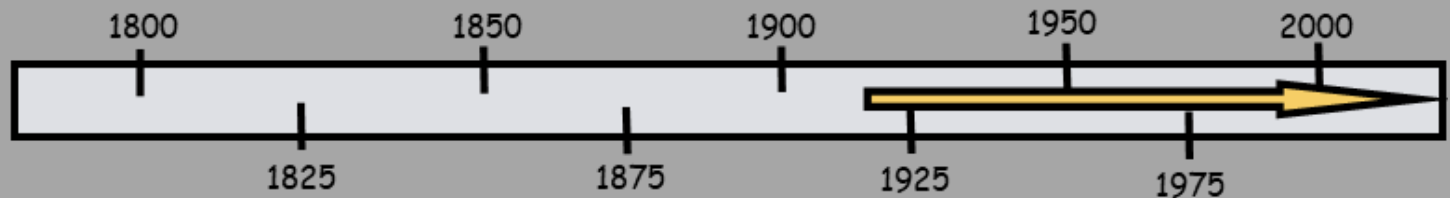

Lukassie was born in 1917, south of Puvirnituq. He was a printmaker who helped build the Puvirnituq Artists Co-operative in 1957. Although he occasionally did some stone carving, he concentrated his work on the production of prints from 1976 onward. His themes were mostly hunting and camping. His artwork can be found in many different catalogues from the Puvirnituq Print Collection. His work was also featured in many exhibitions across the world (England, United States, Belgium, France, Germany and Canada).

"Close to Famine, the Man Kills His Prey"
n.d.

"Caribou Hunting Camp"
n.d.

Fun fact about the artist

Lukassie was chosen to represent his community at the 1978 Printmakers Conference in Ottawa.

"Woman Cleaning a Boy's Clothes and Two Men Going Seal Hunting"

1977