

Mary was born on May 30, 1961 in Ivujivik. She is a multidisciplinary artist who works as a printmaker, jeweller, painter and carver. Mary uses many themes in her printmaking, such as Inuit history and the tools and methods that have been created by Inuit. Her personal experiences and her community events can also be seen in her artwork. In 2017, she worked closely with three other women (Lyne Bastien, Qumaq Mangiuk Iyaituk and Passa Mangiuk) on a group show called "Convergence North/South". Mary's work is featured in the Public Collections of the Avataq Cultural Institute and the Fédération des coopératives du Nouveau-Québec in Montreal.

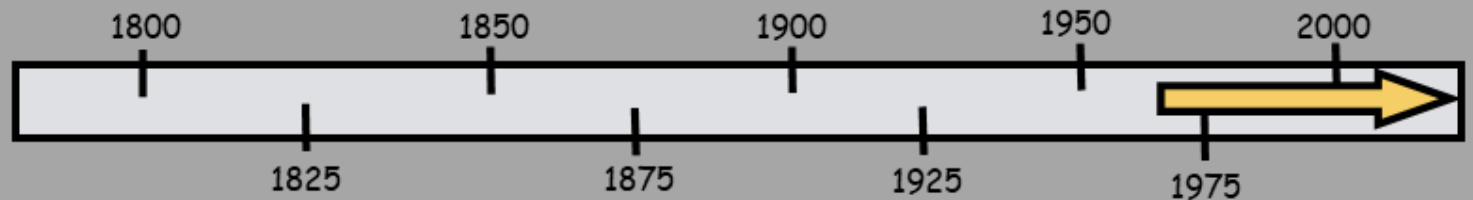

Mary Paningajak

"Untitled"
2016

"Convergence North/South"
2017

Fun fact about the artist

Mary was the mayor of Ivujivik in 2017-2018.

"Arctic Living I"
2018